Terms and Conditions

Participant responsibility

The price for the Study Group USA Higher Education LLC invoiced program does not encompass additional ancillary expenses, including but not limited to:

- 1) Personal spending money.
- 2) Insurance for pre-existing medical conditions, i.e., ailments which exist prior to arrival in the U.S.
- 3) Meal and housing costs during the few times the university is officially closed – usually limited to the Thanksgiving holiday in late November, the Christmas holiday (which normally lasts about four weeks) and Spring vacation (approximately 10 days).
- 4) University textbooks and other necessary school supplies.
- 5) Air fare to and from U.S. domestic airport closest to the university campus in the United States (a round trip ticket is required).
- 6) Extra costs for ESL which may be required by a student whose English language proficiency is inadequate.

Rules

All participants in the Study Group USA Higher Education LLC program are subject to the rules of the university in which they are enrolled. Students must assume full responsibility for compliance. Students must adhere to all housing regulations of the university, to include payment, withdrawal, and cancellation. Rules governing alcohol, tobacco, controlled drugs and other serious offenses will be strictly enforced. Applicants are reminded that international students in the United States must comply with both the letter and the spirit of the law in order to retain valid student visas. Violations of such laws will render the participant liable for immediate dismissal from the program and repatriation to the home country, if not legal prosecution for violation of the laws of the state or federal jurisdictions involved. No refund of fees will be made in the event of dismissal or withdrawal. Students seeking transfer between the date of initial arrival in the United States and the first day of classes may have their I-20 cancelled by the institution to which they were accepted, and no refunds will be granted. Admission is subject to availability. Early application and payment is advised.

Payment Policy:

Students are required to pay a deposit directly to Study Group USA Higher Education LLC before they receive an I-20 form from the partner institution. Deposit amounts vary. Payment for the Fall semester is due July 25. Payment for the Spring semester is due December 15. Payment for the Summer semester is due April 10. All students are required to pay the invoiced amount in full and in advance of the semester start date. Students accepted by an institution after the billing due date are required to pay their deposit immediately upon receipt of an acceptance letter, and are required to pay their bill in full prior to their departure for the United States, or within thirty days of deposit, whichever comes first. Students with outstanding balances will be immediately placed on hold by the host institution, and may be barred from attending classes until payment is made in full.

Payments by credit card after the due date will be subject to a fee of 2% of the total invoiced amount.

Students with balances due after 30 days from receipt of invoice are subject to a $1,000 late payment fee.

Wire payments are recommended. Please refer to the following Bank Details in order to make a wire transfer.

IMPORTANT: When wiring monies, include the student name on the account. If no student name is linked to the wire, delays with processing the payment will likely occur.

General Refund Policy

- All refunds will be sent to the account of the individual from whom Study Group has received the original direct payment, either the student or the Study Group representative to whom the fees were originally paid.
- If a student's visa application is rejected after payment has been received, all fees will be refunded within 45 days, provided a refund request form and an official visa refusal letter from the US Embassy or Consulate is received by our International Admissions Center at least 2 business days before the course is due to start and the student has fulfilled all requirements for a visa application. No refund will be made if a visa rejection is based on the student's failure to meet the necessary criteria for their chosen visa category.

Cancellation Policy

The cancellation policy applies to students who terminate their program prior to start of first course. All cancellations must be made in writing to our International Admissions Center and the following refund policies apply:

- 1) Cancellation of program: If Study Group cancels a program subsequent to a students' enrolment, Study Group will refund all monies paid by the student.
- 2) If an applicant who has been accepted by Study Group and its partners cancels their course prior to the start of the program or does not enter the US with an I-20 issued by Study Group's partners, Study Group will refund all monies paid less a $500 non-refundable cancellation fee and any actual housing costs incurred by Study Group or its partners.
- 3) If an applicant who has been accepted by Study Group and its partners cancels their course prior to the start of the program or never attends class, but has entered the US with an I-20 issued by Study Group's partners, Study Group will refund all monies paid except:
 - a. All tuition charges for up to 4 weeks of the first term/session, a $500 non-refundable cancellation fee and any actual housing costs and insurance incurred by Study Group or its partners for programs whose first term is less than 12 weeks.
 - b. All tuition charges for up to 6 weeks of the first term/session, a $500 non-refundable cancellation fee and any actual housing and insurance costs incurred by Study Group or its partners for programs whose first term is more than 12 weeks.

Withdrawal Policy

Study Group defines withdrawal as termination of a course after orientation for the first course has started. Any withdrawal request must be made in writing to the Center Director of the ISC where the student is studying.

If an enrolled student notifies Study Group of his/her intention to withdraw in writing to the Center Director of the ISC where the student is studying, the following refund guidelines will apply:

- 1) First term/session: for students who withdraw at any point in the first four weeks of the first term of their program, Study Group will retain all charges applicable to the first four weeks. For students who withdraw after the first four weeks but before the mid-point of the first term/session, Study Group will retain a pro-rated amount of tuition and related fees. Refund of housing fees may be less a housing deposit and/or pro-rated unless it is non-refundable by the university. For students who withdraw after the mid-point of the first term/session, Study Group will retain all charges for that term.
- 2) Pro-rated refunds will be calculated on a weekly basis and partial weeks will be considered full weeks.
- 3) Subsequent terms: for students who withdraw after completing the first term/session but before or at the midpoint of any subsequent term/session, Study Group will retain a prorated amount of tuition and fees up to the midpoint. For students who withdraw after the midpoint of any subsequent session, Study Group will retain all of the tuition for that current term/session.

Study Group will not make any refunds to students who are terminated due to violation of Study Group's or its partner's written disciplinary and/or attendance policies or local, state or federal law.

Academic Scholarships:

Study Group Higher Education North America offers scholarships to recognize strong academic achievement.

- 1) Scholarships are offered during specified dates and students will be notified when applications are available to apply
- 2) Scholarships are available for undergraduate applicants that meet specified academic entry criteria as determined by Study Group
- 3) Scholarships may only be applied to the final 2 semesters of the International Year 1 or Global Gateway Program
- 4) If a student is awarded a scholarship, they will be notified in writing within 30 days.
- 5) If a student is awarded a scholarship and subsequently cancels or defers their program, the scholarship is forfeited. Any remaining funds for the scholarship are also cancelled.

Government sponsored students are not eligible for scholarships.

Study plan changes

1) Upon arrival, students will be given a placement examination to assess their English language level. Many institutions also require an assessment in Math. As a result, the length of study may be longer than originally anticipated, incurring extra costs for which the student will be responsible.

2) Students are required to complete their study plan by remaining on campus for consecutive Fall, Spring and Summer semesters.

Progression

Progression at the end of any given semester is dependent on successfully passing all courses in that semester and necessary progression requirements. Partner institutions may have additional requirements for progression. These additional requirements will be reviewed during orientation. Undergraduate students are conditionally accepted to a university, not necessarily into a particular program of study. The university reserves the right to impose additional academic requirements post arrival (such as minimum grade point average) before a student is formally admitted into a particular program of study.

Insurance

All students are required to be properly insured. StudyCare or university-based insurance will be automatically added to your booking, unless proof of comparable insurance is provided upon application. Please note that StudyCare includes services beyond typical health insurance policies in the United States, e.g. cancellation, emergency repatriation, personal liability etc.

US-based health insurance is mandatory for all students. Insurance policies based in countries outside of the United States will not be accepted as reasonable substitutes. While Study Group provides StudyCare Insurance, some Institutions will require students to have a student health insurance policy directly from the institution instead. Insurance coverage begins upon arrival and insurance cards are issued post arrival on campus.

Damage and Liability

Any reference in these terms to liability of students shall also infer liability on the parent or financial sponsor, and such liability is joint and several. Students are responsible for payment for any damage caused by them to Study Group USA Higher Education LLC/institution property, including fixtures and fittings in university-approved accommodation. Occupants of shared accommodation are jointly and severally liable for the proper care of rooms, fixtures and fittings and the university reserves the right to recover costs for damage or exceptional cleaning.

Applying for a visa

Once a student has been accepted, s/he will be provided with an I-20 from the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS), issued by the participating college or university. This form will be sent upon receipt of deposit. An I-20 is required to start the process of obtaining a student visa to enter the United States. You will also be required to present financial documentation to the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) consular office in your country. We advise you to have a letter from your parents/ guardian, financial sponsor or other source of support stating their responsibility for your expenses throughout. A bank statement or letter verifying their financial ability to cover your expenses should also be provided. The bank statement cannot be a copy; it must be original (per immigration law). The bank statement must be notarized and no older than six months. Also, in addition to the bank statement, we require an affidavit of support, which is an original letter from the student's sponsor (such as parent or guardian), claiming financial responsibility for the student. This affidavit must also be notarized. If the student is self-sponsored, no affidavit is required. In the case of government sponsored students, the Financial Guarantee serves as both the bank statement and the affidavit. We recommend that all students apply for their visa as soon as possible, and notify Study Group USA Higher Education LLC directly once your visa status is known. Please notify your academic enrollment advisor when you have made an appointment, and notify your counselor with the outcome of that appointment.
