Roommate Release

Dear Tenants:

We understand that living situations change for everyone, therefore to make a roommate release transition easy we have put together this packet for your use.

- ✓ Both parties agree that one person will be released from the lease per signed Roommate Release form.
- ✓ The tenant(s) staying in the apartment must re-qualify for the apartment. There is an application attached for the tenant(s) staying to fill out. The reason for this is that an apartment approval is based off of everyone's information combined. If one tenant moves, the tenant staying may not be qualified on their own. There is no fee assessed to re-run information. **Just a reminder the approval credit score must be 600 or higher, rent cannot be more than 34% of monthly income and no felonies.
- ✓ If the tenant(s) requalifying does not meet the requirements, the apartment as a whole must vacate. We cannot release the roommate in this matter.
- ✓ In the event of a denial, you're welcome to find another qualified roommate in order to release the tenant initially requesting to be removed from the lease.
- ✓ Once the tenant staying has been qualified, we will remove the other from the lease.
- ✓ The security deposit as a whole stays with the apartment until it is fully vacated by everyone. If you and your roommates have each paid a share of the deposit, it is between you to come up with an arrangement to "reimburse" each other. Keep in mind, any damages that occurred during tenancy will result in a decrease in amount being returned.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to ask.

Thank you,
